Financial Empowerment for Women

Elizabeth Brown

Empowerment Life Coach Elizabeth Brown is expanding her personal development business into the area of women's financial empowerment. Calling upon her 22 years of experience as a CPA, business consultant, life coach, successful entrepreneur and working single mother, Elizabeth has created an individually tailored coaching environment for women who seek financial empowerment.

Elizabeth's own journey with money has taught her that the subject is explosive and far reaching, involving core beliefs and touching every part of one's life. Raised by a single mother, initially on welfare, Elizabeth knows first hand the impact that spoken and unspoken messages about money can have on young girls and the women they become. This work is essential for any woman who yearns to have control over her financial life, feel empowered to set new goals, and experience more self-confidence and peace of mind.

For more information about Elizabeth and her work visit TransformationThroughEmpowerment.com or call her directly at 914.345.1040.
